FEATURE 1

The "Please sell these" Short Ribs · $34

DESCRIPTION

Red-wine-braised short ribs, parmesan polenta, roasted carrots. Tender enough to cut with a fork. Please use a fork.

SELLING NOTES

Lead with “slow-braised” and “creamy parmesan polenta.” “Chef made a lot” is information, not a selling strategy.

PAIRS WITH

Kith & Kin Cabernet Sauvignon · Glass $14
Dark fruit and firm tannins alongside the rich beef. A pairing you can explain without saying “it just works.”

FEATURE 2

Woodfire Grilled Breaded Halibut · $48

DESCRIPTION

Aeromatic breadcrumbs, heirloom carrots, butternut squash risotto, lemon caper sauce

SELLING NOTES

Woodfire-grilled halibut gets a fragrant, crisp coating of aromatic breadcrumbs, while the butternut squash risotto brings a creamy, gently sweet contrast. Heirloom carrots add a tender, earthy note, and the lemon-caper sauce brightens each bite with a lively tang.

PAIRS WITH

BICHOT MACON-VILLAGE CHARDONNAY — The Mâcon-Villages Chardonnay’s bright acidity and fresh, restrained profile complement the lemon-caper sauce and grilled halibut without overwhelming the squash risotto.

FEATURE 3

The “We Saved Room” Chocolate Torte · $14

DESCRIPTION

Dark chocolate, house-made whipped cream, berries. For guests who said they were too full thirty seconds ago.

SELLING NOTES

For guests who said they were too full thirty seconds ago. Drop two forks and let them negotiate the rest.

86'D ITEMS

86 Salmon: Gone fishing. Updates at lineup.
86 “I think we still have it”: Please confirm with the kitchen.

ITEMS ON COUNT

Key lime pie: 7 left as of lineup

BAR NOTES

Featured cocktail: The Pre-Shift Pep Talk
Bourbon, lemon and honey. Bright, balanced and more concise than this evening's meeting.

GENERAL NOTES

If you missed lineup, this card is your understudy.
Read the card before service. Looking thoughtful at the POS buys only so much time.
Push the fish, it's about to turn. :)

These specials are fictional.
Your next lineup is not.
